The Rector writes:

As March gets underway, we notice the days beginning to lengthen and signs of spring appearing in greater profusion. We are likely to turn our attention to the garden, to planting, tidying and clearing, to tackling jobs we should have done earlier, but somehow have neglected. There will doubtless be pruning tasks to do, cutting back dead wood or preparing shrubs and fruit trees for a good show when they blossom and fruit.

Our physical and spiritual lives need that sort of attention too. There may be things within, which need work and care to ensure good outcomes. There may be things to be pruned or tidied, or efforts made to find time to do things long neglected. The season of Lent, now underway, is a good time to reflect on what we can do to improve our own well-being.

From a Christian perspective, this may include making time to consider the state of our relationship with God and with our neighbour. It may prompt us to make time for quiet and reflection, to appreciate the blessings we enjoy, to become actively involved in helping another person, or to be more engaged in our communities.

However you spend the remaining weeks of Lent, even though it is traditionally a time of self-denial, spoil yourself a little. Give yourself the gift of time and enjoy the possibilities which open to you.

May all you experience be good preparation for Holy Week and the great festival of Easter!

Lent Meetings

This year we are basing our study through Lent on a book 'The Nail' by Stephen Cottrell. Meetings will be 2.00 - 3.30 pm at The Rectory on Fridays 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th March. However, you might prefer to read the book but not participate in a group.

As we look for signs of spring, new growth in the world around us, may Lent be a time of growth for us as individuals and as a community. Every blessing,

Norma Payne

Nature Notes

We've certainly had some very cold nights in the last month and even the day time temperatures have struggled to keep above freezing. The bird food has disappeared faster and I've found myself topping it up more than I had intended to. It's not just them eating more because of the cold. I'm sure that there have been more birds present at the feeders at one time. I've not seen any different birds, just the same species but in greater numbers. Over the last few days the weather has warmed up considerably and thankfully food consumption has gone down. During the very cold snap I struggled to keep the birds' water baths ice-free. Water is very important not just for drinking but for bathing to keep feathers in tiptop condition so they can provide the vital insulation necessary to ward off the cold. Several times when I had just provided fresh water, often having broken a layer of ice, birds were soon in drinking and bathing. It made me feel that the effort was very worthwhile.

I mentioned last time that I hadn't seen so many hares. Well I can report that thankfully I've seen a lot more since then. On Sunday afternoon I walked to Shearwater and on the fields just at the back of the house I counted at least ten. I can never get enough of hares - they are just so gorgeous; such a lovely colour, wonderfully camouflaged, and quite magical. On the same walk I saw lots of birds feeding on the ground; a mixture of fieldfares, redwings, starlings, lapwings and golden plovers. The ground had softened, making digging with beaks easier and the warmth had stirred insects and grubs into action and the birds were quick to feed after the cold hard conditions of the previous week. It was lovely to hear the call of the lapwing... "pee-wit", in fact one of its other names is peewit, the other green plover. But I have to admit the golden plover was the real "star of the show" with its plaintive, haunting "kleep" call. The golden plover breeds on upland moor, Northern Britain, and comes down to the south for the winter where it finds food more easily. It is smaller and daintier than a lapwing. Lapwings are with us all year round. They have declined in numbers, but I was pleased to see that at least on the farm here this year they are doing well. The lapwing is the symbol of the Wiltshire Wildlife Trust.

The days are definitely getting longer, the birds are waking earlier in the morning and they are even starting to sing a short dawn chorus. It is lovely to have the lighter evenings, and the late sunlight on the hills opposite this evening was beautiful, honey gold and pink hues of light. There are signs of movement in the hedgerows; white carpets of snowdrops, the catkins on the hazel are showing up well, the velvet grey buds of the willow (pussy willow) are just lovely to touch, and the sticky buds on the horse chestnut. One of our camellia bushes had some wonderful pink blooms before the hard frosts; sadly now they are all brown, but there may be a second show of flowers to come. This weekend it is due to get colder, so despite it feeling as if spring is just around the corner, we

Business and Broadband in the Upper Deverills

Since our update in October we have continued to raise the need for an improved broadband service and maintained contact with potential providers. There will be an update on progress next month. More immediately the Broadband Action Group is anxious to learn about the need for better broadband for existing or potential business users.

It is recognised that business need is a strong economic argument for better broadband and the advice that we have had is that assessing the extent of this will help our case. Whilst there is a database of all registered businesses who pay business rates, there are many people in the Upper Deverills who work from home for part of the week or run a small business such as consultancy from home and who do not need any consent or to register with Wiltshire Council. We therefore need anyone in the Upper Deverills who has either an existing or potential business need to provide a few details so that we can use this information in a general form to argue our case to be a priority for faster broadband. We should therefore be very grateful if anyone who has any business related need, now or potentially in the future, could answer the questions below. Respondents can be anonymous if they wish but we do not need any sensitive commercial information and anything that is provided will be kept confidential and only used in aggregate form. The questions are:

- Do you operate a business that requires broadband based in the Upper Deverills? – Yes/No
- Do you work from home on occasions and require broadband for a business based elsewhere? – Yes/No
- If you do not have a business use at the moment, if there was a better broadband service would you be able and wish to either operate a business from the Upper Deverills or work from home? – Yes/No
- How important do you think the provision of an improved broadband service is for your business use? – Answer on a scale of 1 to 10 where 1 is irrelevant and 10 crucial.
- Looking ahead five years how important do you think the provision of an improved broadband service will be for your business use? – Again answer on a scale of 1 to 10.
- How would you describe the extent of any business use? – Light/Medium/Heavy

Great British Fish and Chip Supper

Want to do something different? Want to eat fish and chips, while raising money for charity? Hold a fish and chip supper on Friday 18th May whilst raising awareness of spinal cord injury and supporting the Spinal Injuries Association's (SIA) information and support services. You can host it in your own home, at work or hold a larger supper in your local community.

SIA will provide a fundraising pack containing hints and tips, recipes, invitations and donation envelopes. By inviting seven friends and asking them to donate an additional £5 you will raise at least £35 from your supper but we will also give you additional fundraising ideas to raise even more money for SIA. Last year we had over 100 suppers taking part in England and Wales and we raised £6,000. In the three years we have been running the event we have raised £20,000 to support spinal cord injured people.

The money raised will help SIA offer support to individuals who become paralysed and their families, from the moment a spinal injury occurs, and for the rest of their lives, by providing services and publications which enable and encourage paralysed people to lead independent lives. Every year in the UK over 1,000 people experience a spinal cord injury and there are an estimated 40,000 spinal cord injured people in the UK alone.

Call Elizabeth Wright on 0845 071 4350, email fishandchips@spinal.co.uk or visit www.spinal.co.uk/fishandchips for more information.

Kingston Deverill WW1 War Memorial: the men behind the names

There are seven names on the First World War Memorial in Kingston Deverill churchyard. What follows is an attempt to make them less anonymous.

Walter Dunford was born in 1895, the fourth son of Charles, farmer, and Amelia who lived at Manor Farm, Monkton Deverill. They also had four other sons and four daughters. He enlisted at Warminster, initially in 11th Reserve Cavalry Regiment. Later he transferred to 1st Battalion Hampshire Regiment. He died of wounds on 1st September 1915 and is buried in Amiens.

Percy Garrett was born in 1892, the eldest son of Abraham, gamekeeper, and Catherine. They lived at 51 Kingston Deverill. He had a twin sister, an elder sister and a younger brother. He enlisted at Bradford-on-Avon in 1/4th (TF) Battalion, Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire) Regiment. He died on 20th September 1918 whilst serving in Egypt and is buried in Cairo.

William Grevatt. It is not clear why this name appears on the War Memorial. There is no mention of him in any of the relevant censuses and only one such name appears in the military records of the First World War. This namesake was born in Halifax in Yorkshire and was in 2/7 Battalion, Prince of Wales (West Yorkshire Regiment). He was killed on 10th April 1917.

Edwin Lewer was born in 1888, the second son of William, gamekeeper, and Sarah Ann. They lived at Forest Cottage, West Woodlands, moving later to East Woodlands. They had three other sons and two daughters. Edwin became a wheelwright then enlisted at Devizes and became a Lance Corporal in 1st Battalion, Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire) Regiment. He was killed on 2nd September 1915 and his name appears on the Ypres (Menin Gate) Memorial.

Frank Mabbett was born in 1886, the second son of Alfred, railway engine driver, and Emily. In the 1901 census the family is registered as living in Southampton, and comprises three other sons and two girls. It is almost certain that Frank's father previously lived at 36 Church Road, Brixton Deverill. Frank married in March 1905 and at the time of his death his wife Ada was living in Kettering. He served in the Northants Regiment, and later 4th Battalion, Suffolk Regiment. He died on 25th April 1917 and is listed on the Arras Memorial.

Herbert Poolman was born at 79 Monkton Deverill in 1885 and was the eldest son of Andrew, wheelwright, and Mary. They had two other sons and two daughters. At the time of his death his wife was living at 53 Codford St Mary. He enlisted in Devizes, and became a Sergeant in 2nd Battalion, Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire) Regiment later transferring to the Durham Light Infantry. He died on 23rd January 1917 and is buried either at Le Quesnoy or at Valenciennes.

Albert Tudgay was born in 1877, the only son of Thomas, agricultural labourer, and Eliza. He had three sisters. At the time of his birth, the family was living at 69 Kingston Deverill, having previously lived at 21 and subsequently at 65. He was a driver in the RASC and was drowned when HT Cameronian was torpedoed and sunk off Alexandria on 2nd June 1917. His name is commemorated amongst nearly 1,000 lost at sea on the Shelby Memorial, Alexandria.

Recipe of the Month—Garlic Chicken

Sponsored by Maiden Bradley Community Shop (844206)

- 1 kg / 2 lb chicken thigh fillets
- 1 tbsp paprika
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 8 cloves of garlic, unpeeled
- ¼ cup (60 ml / 2 fl oz) brandy
- ½ cup (125 ml / 4 fl oz) chicken stock
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 tbsp chopped flat-leaved parsley
- Salt and pepper

Method

Trim any excess fat from the chicken and cut the thighs into thirds. Combine the paprika with some salt and pepper in a bowl, add the chicken and toss to coat. Heat half the oil in a large frying pan over a high heat and cook the garlic for 1-2 minutes until brown. Remove from the pan. Cook the chicken in batches for 5 minutes each batch, or until nicely browned. Return all the chicken to the pan, add the brandy, boil for 30 seconds, then add the stock and bay leaf. Reduce the heat, cover and simmer over a low heat for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, place the garlic pulp in a mortar or small bowl. Add the parsley and pound with a pestle or mix with a fork to form a paste. Stir into the chicken, cover and cook for 10 minutes or until tender. Serve hot.

Where have you been?

The Prince Leopold, Upton Lovell, Warminster BA12 0JP
(01985 850460 www.princeleopold.co.uk)

I am grateful to Christie Burton of Monkton Deverill for this review:

Although I've lived here for many years, I had never been in the Prince Leopold at Upton Lovell. The new owners took over in Summer 2010 and closed for refurbishment. This was very successful. There is a wide choice on the menu, e.g. starters of moules (£6) or devilled kidneys (£5.50) and mains such as duck breast, wild boar stew, sole (£13.50 - £15.50), but turn the page and you will see what is called 'grazing'. From a list of 13 items, you could have three for £7.50 or five for £10. Some examples: baba ghanoush, mini game pie, tzatziki, Wiltshire ham. We imagined bite-sized portions but these versions of Wiltshire tapas were anything but. All five of each person's choice were served on a slate. The menu is available for lunch and dinner seven days a week.

I am always grateful for your recommendations so please keep them coming. If you have any suggestions or comments to pass on, please send them to me by email at farthings.kd@btinternet.com or through my letter box at Farthings, Kingston Deverill.
